Captain Hancock's Salute.

"Hancock's saluting match" is well told by a former Sergeant in the regular army, who is now a resident of Frankfort, Ky. The story illustrates a trait of Hancock's character with which many private soldiers in the late war were familiar. The ex-Sergeant's story is as follows:

"I was stationed before the war," he began, "at Fort Leavenworth, and was on detached duty as orderly at the headquarters of General A. J. Smith. General Hancock was also stationed at that post, being a Captain in the Sixth United States Infantry, under Harney. My duty required my constant attendance about headquarters, and generally I loitered in the little yard in front of the building used by General Smith, which was directly upon the street. Army officers frequently passed by, and one day Captain Hancock, who was noted among the private soldiers for his arrogant and tyrannical bearing, came along the road, in front of headquarters. As required by army regulation, I drew myself up in proper position and made the customary military salute. He paid no more attention to me or my salute than if I had not been there at all, and went on his way. Later in the day he returned, and as he passed by, feeling somewhat nettled at his treatment of me before, I didn't salute him. He had passed me a few steps when he turned and said, in a savage way, 'Orderly, do you not know your duty?' 'I think I know it,' I replied. 'Then, sir, why didn't you salute me as I passed?' I told him I didn't tender the salute because he failed, as duty required, to return my salute when he first came by. We had some other words, when General Smith, who, it seems, was in the second story of the house and had overheard our conversation, poked his head out of the window above us, and peremptorily cried out, 'Orderly!' 'Yes, sir,' 'You will pace that—the sentinel's—beat for half an hour and salute Captain Hancock every time you pass him, and Chptain Hancock will keep his position and return the salute.'

"And there," said the soldier, "I was kept by 'Old A. J.' pacing the beat for half and hour, saluting Hancock every time I passed, and he had to stand there and return my salute. And that," said the veteran to a Democrat who stood by listening to the conversation, "is your candidate for the next President. He is good enough and a nice man among officers, but he hasn't any use for the private soldier, unless he has changed his coat very much since I was in the army."

MATHEMATICAL CURIOSITY.—Joseph Jamerson, of Columbus, O., has had the leisure and ingenuity to study out the following peculiar arrangements of figures: The year 1881 will be a mathematical curiosity. From left to right and from right to left reads the same; 18 divided by 2 gives 9 as the quotient; 81 divided by 9, and 9 is the quotient. If 1881 is divided by 209, 9 is the quotient; if divided by 9, the quotient contains a 9; if multiplied by 9, the product contains two 9's. One and eight are nine, eight and one are nine. If the 18 be placed under the 81 and added, the sum is 99. If the figures be added thus, 1, 8, 8, 1, it will give 18. Reading from left to right is 18, and reading from right to left is 81; and 18 is two-ninths of 81. By adding, dividing and multiplying nineteens, 9's are produced, being one 9 for each year required to complete the century.

HE STOOD IT AS LONG AS HE COULD.—A few days ago, while an excursion train out on the Lake Shore Road was spreading itself over Detroit, a pair of lovers seated themselves on the steps of the City Hall, and of course took hold of hands. Some of the officers in the building noticed this, and one gentleman offered to bet a dollar that they would squeeze for a straight hour without once breaking their hold. The bet was taken. It was an awful hot day, but at the end of forty minutes two red hands were still tightly clasped. Then the young man made an uneasy movement, and said: "Samantha, I'm going to let go of your hand for a minute, but you won't be mad, will you darling? I wouldn't let go till you did, only some sort of an ant is crawling down my back, and I can't keep my mind on you!"

It is a pleasant incident that is related of King George of Greece. During his first visit to Paris a grand ball was given in his honor at the Court of Napoleon III. While the festivities were going forward the Empress Eugenie asked him, 'Whom do you think is the handsomest woman at the ball?'

"Pardon me, your majesty," replied the king; "I am a barbarian, a Cossack; I know but one handsome woman—my wife."

An old Scotchman attributes the disappearance of ghosts from the Scottish moors to the custom of tea-drinking at social meetings. It requires Scotch whisky on the top of old ale to enable a man to see a ghost really worth talking about.

A pompous lord in a speech in the British Parliament, exclaimed: "When I forget my country, may my God forget me!" whereupon a witty opponent said, with more force and elegance, "He'll see you d—d first!"

The Next Apportionment.

The World's Washington correspondent speaking of Congressional representation under the new census, gives the following as the probable result: The effect would be with reference to New York, as reported by the enumerators, to lessen the number of Representatives from 35 to 33; Pennsylvania would drop from 27 to 26; Ohio would lose 1, making her representation 19, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont each 1, and Indiana, Alabama and Tennessee, each 1, making a total loss of 10. Minnesota and Nebraska would each gain 2, Kansas 3, Texas 4, and Michigan, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and California each 1—a total gain of 17. Other States would neither gain nor lose. Placing the gains in Minnesota, Nebraska Kansas, Michigan and California—in all 9—against the losses of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Indiana, in all 8, it would leave for the North and West a net gain of 1. Placing gains of Texas, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia, in all 8, against the losses of Alabama and Tennessee, each, 1 it would leave the South a net gain of 6, and give the House 300 members. Carrying this comparison to cover the present political status of the States named, and omitting New York and Indiana as doubtful, the States ordinarily classed as Republican would have a net gain of four, and those classed as Democratic a net gain of six. This might not mean an increase in the Democratic majority, for, so far from that, that majority might be wiped out in spite of the showing, but it would mean simply that the States now considered Democratic would gain two more members than those now considered Republican.

FUN AT HOME.—Don't be afraid of a little fun at home, good people. Don't shut up your house, lest the sun should fade your carpets; and your hearts, lest a laugh should shake down a few of the musty old cobwebs that are hanging there. If you want to ruin your sons, let them think that all mirth and social enjoyment must be left at the threshold without, when they come home at night. When home is regarded as only a place to eat, drink and sleep in, the work is begun that ends in gambling-houses and reckless degradation. Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere; if they do not find it at their own hearth-stones, they will seek it at other and less profitable places. Therefore, let the fire burn brightly at night in winter, and let the doors and windows be cheerfully thrown open in summer, and make the homestead delightful with all those little arts that parents so well understand.—Don't repress the buoyant spirits of your children. Half an hour of merriment within doors, and merriment of a home, blots out the remembrance of many a care and annoyance during the day, and the best safeguard that they can take with them into the world is the unseen influence of a bright little home sanctum.—Donahoe's Magazine.

The unhappy man who had been run over was carried into the police station, where the surgeon examined him and said: "It's a mercy the wheels passed over him as rapidly as they did, for if the carriage had been going slowly there would have been no hope of his recovery—none whatever." "Precisely," said the radiant hackman, desirous of backing up this favorable opinion as strongly as possible; "when I saw the gentleman crossing the street a little in front of me, instead of pulling up the horse I just gave him a slip with the whip and yelled, 'get up, there!' and that's how I saved the gentleman's life."

Senator Ben. Hill, it is said, certified in writing to the loyalty of a Southern claimant of war damages, and a year or two afterward, going to inquire as to the condition of the claim, he was shown appended to the certificate he had given another, also in his hand writing and with his signature, testifying to the same man's loyalty to the Southern Confederacy.

An exchange says: "Pennsylvania Dutch girls make good preserves," but it doesn't say how much sugar you take to a pound of Dutch girls, nor how long you let 'em boil. The recipe for preserving Dutch girls should be published.

It is generally safe to converse freely with an unreserved talker, but when a man lets you carry on all the conversation it is well to be on your guard, for the probability is, he is taking your measure.

The Americans are a very forgetful race. In the Summer thousands go to the country for their health, and come home without it.

A little boy being told by his mother to take a powder she had prepared for him, "Powder, powder," said he, "mother, I ain't a gun."

A little girl, noticing the glittering gold filling in her aunt's front tooth, exclaimed: "Aunt Mary, I wish I had copper-toed teeth like yours."

A woman cannot become a successful lawyer. She is too fond of giving her opinion without pay.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 23d, 1880.

The question among Republicans at this time is, how do we stand? The Republican party has formed its line of battle, its work is before it. Now what can be expected? When the canvass opened, the party managers encouraged no over-weening confidence of success, but impressed upon the Republicans the necessity for continued and hard labor if they wished to elect their candidates. They conceded to the nomination of General Hancock every advantage, every element of strength that was claimed for it. What is the result. It is becoming apparent to all. We see that too much was claimed for General Hancock; too much conceded by the Republicans, and as a natural and unavoidable consequence the nomination has declined in popular favor. The people are looking beyond the record of the Union soldier to the record and principles of the party that CONTROLS HIM. This is important. Remember it is the PARTY that CONTROLS Hancock, and if he be elected, its principles and not General Hancock will prevail. But what General Hancock has lost General Garfield and the Republican party have gained. There is no support lost to both. The gain of one must be the loss of the other. Like a bottle of soda-water which expends all its vigor in a few minutes, the nomination of the Democratic candidate spirted and bubbled and frothed amazingly at the outset. But the feeling for the Republican candidate is like the rising of the tide, slow, but with ever increasing volume, not noticed at first in the whirlwind of Democratic enthusiasm. But now that calmer counsels prevail, it is seen broad and deep extending over the country, one shining sea of confidence in and of love for that grand old party that carried the Nation safely through the storms of the past into the sunshine of the present.

Shortly after the opening of Congress in December there will come before it a question for final settlement long debated upon in previous Congresses. It is the diatribution of the balance of the general award fund now in the Treasury. There are various schemes before Congress in relation to this money. Great questions of justice and equity are involved. Distinguished lawyers have argued the claim of the Insurance Companies, and others, equally distinguished have argued the claims of those who actually suffered by loss of ships, or by the payment of immense war premiums, or by enforced idleness, because merchants were unwilling to risk their goods in American ships, which, if captured by Confederate cruisers, would be lost. From the sentiments of members, and by votes taken in Congress, it is evident that the men who owned ships, and lost them, or who lost by the payment of their heavy war premiums, have every advantage in the contest. Their claims are just and a knowledge of their suffering during the war to uphold their country's flag, and maintain its honor among the nations of the world, will appeal to the patriotism of every American citizen. I will write more on this subject in the future.

In the course of a recent investigation in some old cases in the Pension office a considerable number of valuable historical papers, such as autograph letters from George Washington and other founders of the Republic have been discovered.

The President, who will be accompanied to the Pacific coast by General Sherman, Mrs. Hayes and the Presidents three sons, will be gone about three months.

General Herbert E. Paine, late Commissioner of Patents has entered upon the prosecution of and soliciting of Patents for inventors, upon a large scale, under the firm name of Paine, Grofton and Zadd. They cannot fail to secure a large business.

Ex-Lieutenant-Governor T. H. Machin, of this State, who has resided in Massachusetts for many years, has returned to California, and will probably reside in San Francisco.

On the occasion of the expected birth of an heir to the throne of Spain the Government will grant amnesty to the Cuban insurgent leaders now imprisoned in Spain.

At a recent farmers' meeting, a speaker gave a recipe for making farming pay, as follows: "Have but one business, and get up in the morning and see to it yourself."

CALIFORNIA JOURNALS.—The Sacramento Record-Union recently entered a new volume, with a steadily increasing business both in advertising and circulation. Like the old Sacramento Union it is one of the best conducted and most reliable journals on the Pacific Slope.

With the Record-Union and Bee, one of the spiciest and most readable papers in the State, Sacramento can truly boast of having two of the best papers published west of the Rocky Mountains.

We are in receipt of the Sierra Free Press, published at Forest City, Sierra county, by W. F. Edwards. In supports Garfield and Arthur, is well edited, and is, withal, a good local journal, which should be well supported by the citizens of Forest City.

The Hollister Telegraph has been reduced in size, but all published at home, the "patent outside" having been discarded. E. S. Harrison is now sole proprietor.—In ring its politics, we wish it success.

LAND DECISION.—Secretary of Interior Schurz recently rendered a decision in the Visalia land case of Whittaker vs. S. P. R. R. Co., as follows:

1. Parties who purchase of preemptors before patent, cannot maintain the attitude of bona fide purchasers, as this is purchasing an equity, they taking such title as the vendees of the Government had, and purchase subject to the action of the Land Department upon the entries, either in conforming or cancelling them.

2d. Such purchasers may be heard, ex rel, to maintain the validity of the entries, but for no other purpose.

3d. Patents should not issue to Assignees, except in case wherein the right of assignees to take patents in their own names is given by express statutory provisions.

John Hagen, late from Bodie, was drowned while bathing in the Sacramento river, about a mile below Sacramento, on Monday afternoon. He was about 40 years of age, and had lately been employed on the steamer Varuna.

The largest crop of grapes ever grown in this State is now on the vines. All vineardists are in fine spirit over the prospects. Many calculations are now being made by the owners of vineyards to extend and increase their acreage.

Alpine county, with its 500 population, pays $675 for its advertising, and the delinquent tax list will not exceed the space of half of this column. Mono, with its 7,600, pays $285, and the delinquent tax list will equal five of our columns. Happy Mono! Unhappy Alpine!!

The National reunion of ex-soldiers and sailors at Canton, Ohio, this week, was a grand success. President Hayes and Generals Garfield, Sherman, Secretary Ramsey and hundreds of distinguished men were present. Over sixty thousand people were present.

At noon on Tuesday three miners went down the Isabel shaft at the New Almaden mine on a monthly tour of inspection, and one, Joseph Hancock, aged 37, was suffocated by the foul gas encountered. The other two recovered

The CHRONICLE Office is on the second floor of "Goodson's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Another Homicide.

About 12 o'clock on Wednesday night special officer Robert Whittaker was shot and mortally wounded by George Watkins, who entered the Comstock Saloon and fired the contents of a shotgun at Whittaker, who was standing at the rear end of the bar. The shot entered his stomach near the naval. The concussion put out the lights, and caused a stampede of the crowd in the saloon, and during the confusion Watkins and an accomplice, John Sloan, who opened the door for him to enter with his gun, made their escape. Another shot was fired immediately after, but by whom, or at whom, is a mystery. Whittaker went to a room over Boisot & Stewart's drug store, a few doors above, and had his wounds examined by Doctors Rogers, Stevenson and Anderson, who informed him that it was a bad case. Whittaker lingered until about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, when he breathed his last. Watkins and Sloan were arrested at an early hour on Thursday morning, and lodged in jail, where an extra guard was kept.

The deceased was about 32 years of age, and leaves a young wife and infant child to mourn his loss. His remains were removed to the undertaking rooms of H. Ward for final preparations for burial, the funeral to take place this afternoon. An inquest was held yesterday and a verdict rendered charging the deed to Watkins, with Sloan as an accessory. As there are many conflicting reports around regarding the cause of the shooting we refrain from giving any publicity to them till the judicial investigation is had.

"HOME AGAIN."—Dr. J. W. Van Zandt arrived home this week from an extended tour in the Eastern States and was warmly welcomed by his legion of Bodie friends. Dr. Van Zandt attended the Templar Conclave at Chicago, and during his tour visited all the leading hospitals and infirmaries in the country and has gained much valuable information which will be of great benefit to him in the practice of his profession, as well as to those who are so unfortunate as to require surgical and medical aid. The Doctor represents the whole Eastern country as one grand hive of industry, business being brisk in every section. The Eastern States are, he says, a lovely garden spot, and now that he is back to the barren hills of Mono, and expects to "stay with us," he wishes, no doubt, that all our lines had been cast in pleasanter localities, but we are all here "for our health!"

STOP "CROAKING."—Notwithstanding the population of Bodie is some two thousand souls less than it was in July, our bullion shipments in August amounted to over $50,000 more than in July, and to produce this amount the same amount of money has been expended for labor and supplies, but the coming "pay days" will see it disbursed in a manner that will benefit the town more than it would were the two thousand here to share it, directly or indirectly. The croakers who believe, or think they believe, that the town is fast going to the Pintes, had better follow those who have already left. The town, in a business point of view, is better to-day than it has been for a year past.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.—The Republican Central Committee on Wednesday last ordered a primary election to be held on Saturday next, to elect delegates to a Convention to convene in Bodie, September 22d at 11 o'clock A. M. to nominate a county ticket. Delegates were apportioned as follows: Antelope, 2; Bridgeport, 5: Bodie, 19; Benton, 3; Homer, 2; King's Ranch, 1; Mammoth City, 4; Mormon Ranch, 1; total, 37. The test for voters at the primaries will be—Will you support the Presidential Electors on the Republican ticket at the ensuing general election?

CLUB MEETING.—The Garfield & Arthur Club held a large and enthusiastic meeting at Miners' Union Hall on Saturday evening last. Frank V. Drake addressed the meeting and made many heavy points against the Democracy, and his remarks were frequently greeted with enthusiastic applause. Col. Zabriskie, of Carson, also briefly addressed the Club. The newly organized Glee Club favored the meeting with some good singing. The meeting was a successful one, and there will be another to-night. As many ladies wish to attend these meetings arrangements should be made to have them do so.

BULLION SHIPMENTS.—We are indebted to Major Atlee, of Wells, Fargo & Co., for the following statement of the bullion shipments during August:

Bodie Con	$ 82,547 60
Standard Con	177,081 69
Noonday	49,088 89
Bulwer Con	27,936 55
Belvidere	12,618 41
Sundries	2,385 50
Total	$301,608 55

The above shows an increase of $51,302 43 over the July shipments. Last month the Belvidere came to the front as a producing mine, and it would have done better had its full quota of stamps at the mill been in running order.

THE JEWISH HOLIDAYS.—The Jewish holidays commence to-morrow evening, continuing till Wednesday, and the Day of Atonement, commencing on Tuesday evening. The usual religious services of the Israelites will be observed in Odd Fellows' Hall during their holidays.

THE LADIES' RELIEF SOCIAL.—The ladies of the Relief Society are to give their next social at Miners' Union Hall Monday evening next, September 6th. There will be the usual attractions. The ice cream table will be in charge of Mrs. Hank Blanchard, the fruit table in charge of Mrs. Dr. Robertson and Mrs. Micomber; the lemonade and candy table in charge of Mrs. T. S. Harris; the door in charge of Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Sawyer. Dancing will begin at 8:30 and continue until 12 o'clock. Admission, fifty cents, giving all an opportunity to contribute to the relief of the destitute of Bodie and enjoy an evening of amusement.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—The Democratic Central Committee has ordered a primary election for Thursday next, the 9th, to elect delegates to a Convention to be held in Bodie, on Saturday, the 25th. Bodie is to have 14 delegates; Bridgeport, 4; Benton, 3; Antelope, 4; Mammoth, 5; Mill Creek, 4; Keith, 2; Indian District, 2, and King's Ranch, 1—total, 39. The test to be, "Do you pledge yourself to vote for Hancock and English at the coming election.

The grief of Mrs. Whitacre as her husband lay senseless and dying last night was overwhelming. The murderer should have been compelled to witness the effect of his work.—Standard News.

Watkins having died from the effects of a brutal attack from Whitacre, how about Watkins' sister's grief?

THIRD YEAR.—Dr. R. G. Preshaw, the popular Dentist of Bodie has entered upon the third year of his residence here, proof positive that his skill has been appreciated by the public. We are glad to note this fact, and can safely commend him as a first-class operator.

DIED.—At about ten o'clock this forenoon, George Watkins, under arrest for the killing of officer Whitacre, was found dead, supposed from the effects of a fracture of the skull, inflicted by Whitacre previous to his being shot.

U. S. CHOP HOUSE.—We call attention to the advertisement of the United States Chop House, opposite the CHRONICLE office. There is no necessity for one to go hungry when a good meal can be had for 25 cents.

PERSONAL.—Register James E. Goodall, of the U. S. Land Office, arrived home on Thursday from his Knights Templar trip to Chicago.

Judge R. M. Briggs is also in town attending to town lot business.

E. F. Gibson, of the Union Fruit Market, has the finest fruit and vegetables in town, and sells them at lower prices. Fine peaches and grapes for your dinners to-morrow.

NOTARIES.—Governor Perkins has appointed Frank P. Willard, Notary Public for Mono county, vice J. L. Greely, resigned; and D. A. Mageath, vice J. M. Land, resigned; both to reside in Bodie.

ICE CREAM.—At the Can Can Restaurant the usual Sunday dinner with ice cream, etc., dessert, will be given by George Callahan to-morrow. It is cheaper for families to eat at the Can Can on Sunday.

JEWELRY.—Now is the time to buy jewelry and watches at low figures. D. Hollander, the leading jeweler of Bodie is selling goods in his line a remarkably low prices. Go and see for yourselves.

REMOVED.—M. Schwartz has removed his clothing emporium to the store opposite the CHRONICLE office, where he has one of the best stores in town.

BODIE HOTEL.—Tower & Fullride of the Bodie Hotel, near the Standard Mill, give their usual "way up" Sunday dinner to-morrow. The Bodie Hotel is one of the best in the city.

NEW POSTMASTER.—Alexander Rosenwald has been appointed Postmaster at Lundy, vice Moody, resigned.

OCCIDENTAL SALOON.—Kemp & Colman have refitted their first-class saloon, and if possible it is more attractive than ever.

The Chinese steamer Ho Chung, of which there has been so much said, has arrived at San Francisco, with seven white passengers and seven Chinese. She paid the regular alien tonnage tax under protest. The matter of tonnage dues will have to come before the Cabinet for settlement.

On Friday last, the California wonder, St. Julien, trotted his mile over the Hartford track in 2:11¼—beating his own and the great time of Maud S. by one-half second. This is wonderful trotting, but he is to be trotted over the Washington track on the 9th of October with a view of doing still better.

Judge Bell of Shasta, sitting in place of Judge Steele in the Superior Court of Yreka, has decided that while persons who are not citizens of the United States cannot locate mining claims, they are not estopped from locating water rights for mining or any other purpose. The plaintiffs in the case were Chinamen.

CARSON AND COLORADO.—The locomotives for the Carson and Colorado Railroad are not expected before about October 1. They are building at Philadelphia. It will take 8,000 tons of steel rail to lay the track, and the entire cost of the road and equipments is estimated at $2,000,000.—Enterprise.

A lightning-rod agent was struck by lightning the other day, and the phenomenon can only be accounted for on the theory that the electric fluid got tired of being lied about.

COUNTY SEAT ITEMS.

(From the Bridgeport Union).

DISGUSTED.—One of the "undesirables," from Bodie, passed through town on Monday last, en route for the Western Slope, and the atmosphere was blue from the cursing piled on Bodie and its people. He said it was nothing but a den of thieves; that when he left, not an honest man remained; that the mines were "played out;" that a decent bed or meal could not be had, and that everybody was rushing around to borrow money to get out the damn place, and not one had twenty-five cents that he could call his own. After thus doing the Metropolis, he chilled Bridgeport by saying that the Indians would soon store acorns in the new Court House. The last heard of him he was at Hot Springs, begging Sam Fales for whisky.

MODEL BARN.—In keeping with the palatial residence of N. B. Hunnewille, a large barn is being erected for the accomodation of his horses. The building is 46x80 feet and the timbers are of extraordinary size. Through the center, crosswise, is a wide carriage way, and in each of the corners are large rooms with stalls for eight horses—giving ample room for thirty-two horses. The center, with the exception of the carriage way, will be used for hay and grain. Upon the completion of this barn, another one, for the storage of hay and grain, 58x100 feet will be built. Connected with the first barn is a corral, with handsomely constructed sheds, 160 feet in length, fitted up with floored stalls.

TO THE LADIES.—The ladies of Mono county will be pleased to hear that Silas B. Smith, the pioneer dry goods merchant of Bodie, is reducing his immense stock of dry goods in order to close one of his Bodie stores and concentrate his business, and until the 15th of September will sell at less than San Francisco cost. Ladies, he has just the "loveliest" goods you ever saw.

PROVIDENCE.—As an illustration of the doings of an All-wise Providence, who has the keeping of the good people of Mono, we cite His watchful care which prompted Sheriff Taylor's refusal to vacate his office. It was a God-send—a blessing in disguise. Recent developments before the Grand Jury establishes this fact.

SUPERVISORS DISTRICTS.—In accordance with law, the Board of Supervisors have redistricted the county as follows: Antelope and Bridgeport; Bodie and Mill Creek; and Benton and Lake. Supervisors are to be elected at the General Election next November, and they will assume office on January next.

ARRESTS.—The following arrests were made within the past few days: James English, Frank Johnson and John Doe Gormley, for burglary; Fred. W. Smith, receiving stolen goods; and H. C. Morton, grand larceny.

CHANGE.—Henry Rickey has purchased the property known as "Mack's Station," at junction of Antelope and Sonora roads, and hereafter it will be known as "Rickey's Station."

BRICKS.—Severe & Sanders have finished burning their kiln of 110,000 bricks, and commenced building another of 100,000. They are of superior quality, and the price, at the kiln is $12 50. Lime, at Severe's kiln, is held at $27 50.

BEARS.—On Sunday night three cinnamon bears raided John Dorsey's five bands of sheep. Several heads of stock have lately been killed by bruins.

INCREASING.—Under the appropriate head it will be noticed that the population of the Capital of Mono is steadily on the increase.

CONTRACT LET.—McGee & Troy, of Reno, have to build the vaults and chimneys, and do the plastering at the new Court House.

RECORDED.—During the month of August 69 deeds—29 mining and 40 real estate, were recorded in the County Recorder's office.

FIRE PROOF.—Work has commenced for the erection of a two-story fire-proof brick building, to be used as a warehouse, for Davis and Brother. It will be 24x32 feet.

FOR SHERIFF.—In another column C. E. Loose announces himself as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Republican Convention.

THE CROPS.—The hay and potato crops in Antelope Valley are good, and grain is up to the average.

HAY.—Hay is worth on the ranches $15 per ton.

So much for the volcano and hot water geyser story.

Justice Wendell, of the Essex Market Police Court, New York, fined a young man $5 for throwing stones at a Chinaman who ejected him from his laundry. The prisoner's counsel offered in defence the prisoner's respectability and alleged that Chinese were well known as "Now, stop right where you are," replied the Justice, "This is not in San Francisco. A Chinaman in New York will be protected by me every time."

The Democracy of Michigan have been called on for $100,000 for campaign purposes in Indiana. It appears that the Democrats are concentrating their combined forces in the Hoosier State. Recruits from Maine, New York and other States are daily arriving on that political battle-ground, and it would seem that they are becoming anxious about the result in October.

The General Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, which meets once in three years, and which has just closed its triennial session at Chicago, will hold its next session at San Francisco, beginning on the third Friday in August, 1883, the day after the close of the Triennial Conclave of Knights Templar.

The Pacific Coast Pioneers will give a grand picnic and barbecue at Treadway Park, Carson, early in October. A trench will be dug, and wood will be burned till there is a bed of coals of sufficient depth to roast pigs and sheep and calves and goats, and it is also proposed to roast an ox whole.

Eating "Crow."

As the Democrats are "eating crow," we give the origin of the saying, which appeared some forty years ago in a story in the Knickerbocker Magazine: It was the story of a Summer boarding-house keeper on the Hudson and an indignant patron. Whenever the latter ventured to suggest that the chicken was rather tough, or that the roast beef must have been cut from the cow's hoofs, he was directly told that he was entirely "too particular," and that the autocrat of the table and his family could eat anything, even crow. This settled the matter for the time being, but the boarder, convinced against his will, was of the same opinion still, at all events in regard to the quality of the edibles placed before him. So often was the remark, "I kin eat a crow," brought down upon his devoted head that he finally resolved to try the old man. He went out gunning one day, and succeeded in bagging a fine, fat old crow. He went into the kitchen, and by dint of soft words and filthy lucre induced the cook to prepare that crow for the table. He boiled it nicely, and then it wasn't such a bad looking dish. His heart misgave him; the "flinty old cuss" would eat it after all. The cook was a Scotchwoman, and used snuff. He borrowed all she had, and sprinkled it liberally over the crow, gave it another simmer, and then taking it on a salver, brought it before his host, saying, as he set it down; "Now, my dear sir, you have said a thousand times that you can eat crow; here is one that is very carefully cooked." It is said the old man turned pale for a moment, but braced himself against the back of his chair, and with, "I kin eat crow," he began, cutting a good mouthful. He swallowed it, and then preparing for a second onslaught, he looked his boarder straight in the eye, and ejaculated: "I've eaten crow," and took his second portion. He lifted his hands mechanically, as if for a third onslaught, but dropped them quickly to the region of his stomach, and, rising hurriedly and unsteadily, retreated for the door, muttering "But dang me if I hanker arter it."

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, SEPTEMBER, 4, 1880.

"Dark Horse."

The origin of the term "Dark Horse," so frequently used in political circles, is explained by the Cincinnati Enquirer as follows:

Once upon a time, there lived in Tennessee an old man named Flynn, who traded in horses, and generally contrived to own a speedy nag or two, which he used for racing purposes whenever he could pick up a "soft match" during his travels.

The best of his flyers was a coal-black stallion named Dusky Pete, who was almost a thoroughbred, and able to go in the best of company. Flynn was accustomed to saddle Pete when approaching a town, and ride him into it to give the impression that the animal was merely "a likely hoss" and not a flyer.

One day, he came to town where a country race-meeting was being held, and he entered Pete among the contestants. The people of the town, not knowing anything of his antecedents, and not being over-impressed by his appearance, backed two or three local favorites heavily against him.

"Just as the "flyers" were being saddled for the race, old Judge McMinamee who was the turf oracle of that part of the State, arrived on the course and was made one of the judges.

As he took his place on the stand, he was told of the folly of the owner of the strange entry.

Running his eye over the track, the judge instantly recognized Pete, and he said, "Gentlemen, there's a dark horse in this race that will make some of you surprised before supper."

The judge was right. Pete, the "dark horse," lay back until the three-quarter pole was reached, when he went to the front with a rush, and won the race.

BABIES.—We love babies, and everybody who does love them. No man has music in his soul who does not love babies. Babies were made to be loved, especially girl babies when they grow up. A man isn't worth anything who hasn't a baby, and the same rule applies to a woman. A baby is a spring day in winter; a ray of sunshine in frigid winter; and if it is healthy and good natured, and your very own, it is a bushel of sunshine, no matter how cold the weather. A man cannot be a hopeless case so long as he loves babies, one at a time. We love babies all over, no matter how dirty they are. We love them because they are babies, and because their mothers are loveable and lovely women. Our love for babies is only bounded by the number of babies in the world. We always look for babies, we do with paternal affection and anxiety; we do indeed. We pity wives who have no babies. Women always look down-hearted who have no babies; and men who have no babies always gamble, and drink whiskey, and stay out at night trying to get music in their souls; but they can't come it. Babies are babies, and nothing can take their place. Pianos play out, and good living plays out, unless there is a baby in the house. We say there's nothing like a baby.

If he puts his arms around her like a bear, and stops her breath when he kisses her, they are not married, but are likely to be. If he puts his hands on her shoulders, leans forward a little, snatches the prize and falls back, they have been married two weeks. If he comes up with his hands in his pocket, look out of the windows, says "Well, goody," gives her a tasteless smack, and rushes off, they have been married for two years, and life is a desert.

Don't blame the rooster for bragging over every egg that is laid in the family. Only human nature, nothing more. You remember that when that bouncing boy arrived at your house it wasn't the mother who went about doing the crowing.

"Shon," said a Dutchman, "you may say what you please 'bout pad neighbors; I have had te vorst neighbors as ever vas. Mine pigs and mine hens come home mit dere ears split, and todder day two of them come home missing."

Probably no man so fully realizes the hollowness of life and human ambition as the man who ladles a teaspoonful of new-laid horseradish into his mouth, under the impression that it is ice cream.

That man whom you can treat with unreserved familiarity, at the same time preserving your dignity and his respect, is a rare companion, and his acquaintance should be cultivated.

In the Paris Postoffice recently there was found, in a panel adjacent to the letter box, a letter which had been posted 50 years ago, and which found the person to whom it was addressed still alive.

To protect one's self against the storms of life, marriage with a good woman is a harbor in the tempest; but with a bad woman it proves a tempest in the harbor.

There is no accounting for tastes; a summons in a breach of promise suit against the bridegroom was sent in with the bridal presents.

The tree keeps its trunk in good order during the winter, so that it shall be ready to leave early in the spring.

The druggist who advertised "Eau de Cologne water" prides himself on his French.

It is said that the Prince of Wales is in want of money. That's nothing, we have seen lots of people in the same fix.

We love women a little for what we do know of them, and a great deal more for what we do not.—Ike Marvel.
